Foreword These proceedings are the third volume to be published in a series generated by the annual military history symposium sponsored by the US Army Training and Doctrine Command (TRADOC). Each year, these conferences bring togeth-er both military and civilian historians, as well as formal and informal students of military history, literally from around the world, for the purposes of presenting ideas and points of view on current military issues from a historical perspective. This years symposium, hosted by the Combat Studies Institute, was held 2-4 August 2005 at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. The 2005 symposiums theme was An Army at War: Change in the Midst of Conict. As this title indicates, presentations at this event focused on how an Army changes while concurrently ghing a war. Changing an Army in peacetime is difcult enough. Transformation can include changes to the personnel system, the turning in old and the elding of new equipment, new training re-quirements, and at times, learning an entirely new way of viewing the enemy and the battle space in which operations will occur.
