Excerpt: . . . o emphasize resource protection and to provide for consistency in the management of the sanctuaries, H. R. 6537 would formally establish a national marine sanctuary system to be managed by the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration in accordance with a clear mission statement that would be added to the Act. Second, H. R. 6537 calls for the inventorying and ecological classification by NOAA of the maritime environment and marine heritage resources under the jurisdiction of the United States based upon guidelines to be developed in consultation with the coastal states and territories, the Indian tribes and the regional fishery management councils, among others. H. R. 6537 would allow for additional sanctuaries to be designated. The bill also would provide more realistic timeframes for NOAA to complete management plan reviews and evaluate their effort or their effect to free up more resources to support research, management and education activities. During the course of its oversight, the Subcommittee was informed by NOAA that...
