V., one of Hartford s best known men, died yesterday morning at his home, No. 144 Washington street. He had been failing for several years and consequently his death was not unexpected. He began to sink Saturday afternoon, gradually lost consciousness during the night, and died at 7.45 a. m. without any suffering. Charles Weiser, a nephew, and Miss Emily M. Brace, were with him when he died. General Franklin leaves two brothers, Samuel Rhoades Franklin, rear-admiral of the United States Navy, retired, of Washington, D. C., and Colonel Walter Simonds Franklin of Baltimore, who served with distinction in the Union Army in the Civil War, and was on the staff of General Sedgwick and was by his side when the latter was killed. Another nephew, William Weiser, by General Franklin s deceased sister, lives in York, Pa., and there are six other nephews and nieces, children of Colonel Franklin. Rev. George T. Linsley, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, made a brief announcement of General Franklin s death at the morning service yesterday, and spoke of the general s long connection with the church.
