Reviews

*I just began reading this pdf. It is actually written in straightforward words instead of hard to understand. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

After the vowel it shews the vowel to be long, as bea ting bee ting. After the consonant it shews the vowel to be short, as batt ing bat ing. Every vowel may be long or short. Many other signs employed to indicate peculiar actions or sounds will be explained as the necessity for using them arises. III. - The Nature of Musical Sound. Sound. - Sound is a sensation due to a vibration of the air acting through the drumskin of the ear upon the terminations of the nerves of hearing in the internal ear. Simple and compound vibration. - The vibration is said to be simple when each particle of air moves regularly to and fro like a pendulum. Any other vibration is called compound, because it can be produced by the excitement of several simple vibrations at the same time. Simple tone, and compound tone or note and noise. - A simple vibration produces a simple tone. A compound vibration produces a compound sound, which is a note or musical sound when every double vibration (or whole movement both ways) takes place in the same time; it is otherwise a noise. The ear, by means of the numerous terminations of the nerve of hearing, analyses a compound sound, whether note or noise, into the simple tones corresponding to the simple vibrations of which the compound vibration is, or may be, compounded. Every...
